

Pole fittings

All our dinghy poles are fitted with the newly designed spinnaker pole end. Moulded from high modulus composite with a stainless steel plunger, the Seldén pole end is undoubtedly one of the best on the market. Many new features have been designed into this fitting including:

- Significantly stronger beak
- Cleverly profiled beak keeps the rope away from the plunger, giving a more secure attachment
- More positive trigger
- Newly designed spring mechanism to allow easy flushing out of sand and salt

The end fitting is designed to suit the Seldén alloy pole range. When fitted with a lightweight adaptor it is compatible with the 39 mm carbon pole.
